North Carolina Industrial Commission

October 21, 2015

Fred Duyck named Industrial Commission Administrator

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Raleigh, N.C. - North Carolina Industrial Commission Chairman Andrew T. Heath has appointed Fred Duyck to serve as the Commission's administrator beginning October 29. The administrator is a senior-level position and is tasked with overseeing the Commission's personnel, budget, and other managerial operations.

Duyck is a licensed Certified Public Accountant (CPA), and brings with him several years of financial and management experience. He is currently a Tax Manager with the Raleigh firm of Maddison & Caison, LLP, and spent several years as a Senior Tax Associate with PricewaterhouseCoopers, LLP. Duyck received both his bachelor's and master's degrees from North Carolina State University and is a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

"I'm fortunate to appoint such a dynamic and skilled individual to this important position," said Chairman Heath. "Fred's previous experience and professional knowledge will enable him to navigate the challenges of the administrator's role and ensure that the agency continues to run productively."
