

Jennifer S. Boyer

Jennifer Boyer joined the Industrial Commission as a Special Deputy Commissioner in July 2007. She received her B.A. in education from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in 1996, and taught elementary school Spanish. She later returned to law school at North Carolina Central University to receive her J.D. degree, cum laude, in 2005. Before joining the Industrial Commission, she worked representing primarily Spanish-speaking clients at a small plaintiff's firm.
